The Attitude V5 headset launches this summer as the feisty little brother to the Dominator HDO. The headset represents a leap forward with the same 30° field of view (FOV) as the Dominator V3, high performance VGA OLED micro-displays and specialty pricing. The limited edition of machine green goggles comes with a digital video recorder (DVR) and a built in modular 5.8GHz OLED dual-receiver diversity making this a comprehensive high-performance package. The included, simple-to-use receiver has one-touch band change capability, channel scanning and a spectrum analyzer for clean and simple channel selection along with internal routing for the second receiver to keep the front of the goggles looking crisp and clean.
