The Gemfan 1050 is a high-pitch propeller designed specifically for 10-inch aerial photography platforms. Manufactured from glass fiber reinforced nylon, it offers a solid and durable structure suitable for mid- to high-load flight scenarios, especially when carrying professional camera equipment.
Featuring a 5-inch pitch combined with a tri-blade configuration, the 1050 is engineered to deliver strong and sustained thrust output, supporting stable flight performance under heavier payloads.
Designed for large-size aerial platforms operating under higher loads, the Gemfan 1050 focuses on balancing power efficiency and flight stability. It is well suited for professional aerial photography users who prioritize smooth footage and reliable thrust performance.
